The Modern Language Assessment (MLA) is used by the University of Utah to measure an individual’s proficiency with a foreign language. Undergraduates who demonstrate advanced proficiency qualify to purchase sixteen hours of lower division credit. These credit hours meet the language requirement for a Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree. They are not assigned a letter grade, so they do not affect the grade point average. Retakes are not permitted. International students (or those here on a visa) are not granted credit for taking the test in their native language.
